

Lesson Plans for NEH Workshop: African-Americans in the Making of Early New England July 9-14, 2017 in Deerfield, Mass.

Teacher- Mr. Calvin S. McFarland, Jr.

Social Studies- Mandarin High School

Jacksonville, Florida

Subject- African-American history

Lesson Topic: Colonial Slavery in the North

Standard: Colonial Slavery in the North

Introduction: Students will write a 1-page expository essay on whether current Blacks should receive financial compensation for slavery

Focus Lesson or Learning Objective: Colonial Slavery in the North

Essential Question: Why is it important to learn about slavery in the north?

Modeling: Direct Instruction on Colonial Slavery in the North

Guided Practice or Independent Study: Students will watch the presentation on "Traces of the Trade: a Story from the Deep North"/2 page summary is required from the presentation

Closing: Teacher will highlight specific parts of the movie for open discussion through critical thinking