

ld. adjoining to the river Hall, after bank, and immediately downhill (where ships are now) the labours were lately coming and burning, one of them struck his side into a cavity, a several coins. On further search a number more, chiefly of some of silver; they had with great regularity (as money) each piece on another, to a 10. The outward sides were 10, and supported by them those who had suffered by the rain heap, ried over them. the cavity, it had been formed by a casket or ble materials, that enclosed the if no vestige remained. The are in good preservation: — 4 Trojan, 4 Arian, 7 Caesar, others, considerably damaged. ng singular and-descript species fine silver, and excellent work- igh preservation, were also dis- r this cavity; appertaining to r silver complicated chain, with me metal, through which the ased to serve as loops, all of onism. They are all deposited n of Mr. Wallis, the Antiquarian ill.

REGULAR CUSTOM.
 In part of Devonshire is remark- der. In order to celebrate a arveit, the following custom is up in that quarter. On the iphany, the farmer, attended by with a large pitcher of cyder, chard, and then encircling one aring trees they drink the fol- several times.
 e. old apple tree;
 may I bud, and whence thou blow!
 these may I bear apples grow!
 ap to I!
 the! sacks fall!
 ets fall too!
 as! Huzza!
 they return to the house, the h they are sure to find baited by ho, be the weather what it may, to all entreaties to open them, among them has grieved upon spit, which is generally found ng difficult to be hit on, and is him who first names it. The thrown upon and the lucky ves the tit bit as his recompence. perditions as to believe that if his custom, the trees will bear year.

considered as a Vegetable.
 evergreen that sprouts buds, t all the year round; it shoots and requires little or no cul- ten found to flourish in cities, as well as in the country; it has been remarkably hard the verge of a coast. It is sic, and transplanted from oth- which case it soon withers and it is engaged with the natural use of the country. It may be vegetable kingdom among the throoms, finer, like them, it a sudden, like them is quickly thout even being able to dis- account for its preservation.

THE FARMER'S MUSEUM.
 -stare in England and America, at a Service period.
 are speaking of the deplorable he English, in 1661, buried in the ruins of a parish, and his depicting the story of repairing vench. The case was carried e court, and the Judge raised following question: From St. court He now prays 270— tried— They are to pass the

Have just received a most elegant assortment of Fresh Summer

GOODS:

Which are now opened and ready for sale at their

Variety Store,

In COLRAIN—too numerous to be partic- larized in an advertisement—the qualities and prices of which they presume cannot but suit the purchaser.

Colrain, May 25, 1799.

HUNTER.

That noted Horse stands for cover- ing this season, at the stable of ELI- JAH LAMB.—For terms enquire of JOHN E. HALL.

Wanted by said Hall, a quantity of Boards & Shingles.

Greenfield, May 25, '99.

Stray Colt.

Strayed from the pas- ture of the Subscriber, about the 10th ult. a black MARE COLT, 2 years old this spring from all, a white stripe in the forehead, and one or both hind feet white.—Whoever will take up said Colt, or give information where he may be had, shall be handsomely rewarded.

THOMAS SHEARER.

Colrain, May 20, 1799.

A FARM for sale,

Lying in Heath, a mile and a half north of the meeting house;—Containing one hundred and ten

Acres of a silent LAND, about twenty of which are under good im- provement. There is two good DWELLING HOUSES, and BARNs on said Farm—an extraor- dinary SUGAR PLACE which has afforded upwards of eleven hundred weight of Sugar this Spring—and an excellent spot for a MILL.

As there is two sets of buildings on the place, the lots will be sold sep- erate, or in one, as may best suit the purchaser.—For further particulars enquire of the subscriber, living on the premises.

BENJAMIN JAQUITTE.
 Heath, May 18, 1799.

The subscriber having purchased the TAN WORKS late- ly owned by Mr. William Edwards, wishes to purchase a quantity of,

Oak & Hemlock Bark,

for which good pay will be made, if delivered in good order at the works. Also, informs all indebted, that all accounts must be settled without de- lay, to enable him to fulfil his con- tracts; or he must take advantage of the act of insolvency.

ELIJAH LAMB.

Greenfield, May 11th, 1799.

Drugs & Medicine.

Colrain, May 18th, 1799.

Ten Dollars Reward!

Made his escape from his keepers, on the night of the 16th inst. ALPHEUS FAXON, of Con- way, in the County of Hampshire, being legally arrested on a complaint for Theft, to which complaint, on examination before a Magistrate, he plead guilty. He is nearly six feet high, about nineteen years old, light brown hair, light eyes—his counte- nance of a palish sickly appearance, and expressive of guilt. Whoever will take up said Thief, and return him to the subscriber shall receive the above reward.

RUFUS SEXTON,
 Deputy Sheriff.

Deerfield May 18, 1799.

SKY LARK,

Will stand for covering at the stable of Matthew Donelson, innholder in Colrain, at the moderate price of 9 shillings the leap, and 15 for the sea- son—sure foals may be agreed for at the stable. He will also be removed alternately to the stable of Daniel Spooner, innholder in Heath, so as to be there one third of the time from the first day of June next.

SKY LARK is a beautiful bright furred, sixteen hands high, seven years old, well made, moves elegantly, and majestic. He was sired by the noted horse Janus.

Gentlemen with good breeding mares are invited to call and see for themselves. Constant attendance will be given.

MOSES DONELSON.
 Colrain, May 8, 1799.

SWEET BRIAR.

That well known, ap- proved Horse, SWEET BRIAR, will stand the ensuing season at the stable of Capt. Jacob Gregg, in Colrain, one half the time, and the other half at Landord Jedidiah Lit- tlefield's, in said town—he will cover at Two Dollars and Fifty Cents the single leap, and Four Dollars the season—a sure foal may be agreed for.

ANDREW WATSON.
 Colrain, May 17th, 1799.

REIN DEER

Will stand for covering this sea- son, at the stable of the subscriber, in Greenfield, at THREE DOLLARS the season for each Mare. He was sired by the celebrated Horse PAY- MASTER. His color is a beau- tiful bright bay.

JOSEPH SEVERANCE, jun.
 Greenfield, May 16, 1799.

Green Field
 Gazette
 p 4
 June 3, 1799